It is spring at Beth's
sheep ranch.

The wind is fresh, and
the creek runs fast.

“I am glad the sheep
are OK,” Dad tells Beth.

He stops to hug Beth.

The sun goes to sleep,
and the wind has a chill.

It is time for Beth and Dad to go to bed.

• THE YAK •

Spring has arrived at Beth's sheep ranch, and along with it, a brand-new animal—Jack, the yak! When Jack keeps escaping his pen, Beth and her dad must come up with a plan to keep both Jack and their sheep safe.

The cover features a central illustration of a young girl named Beth with her hair in two buns, wearing a yellow shirt and blue overalls. She is holding a ginger and white tabby cat. A black and white dog sits nearby. In the background, there are several white sheep, a red fox, a brown chicken, and a yellow chick. The scene is set in a green field with a wooden fence and a blue pond. At the top, Beth and two sheep are shown peeking over a wooden sign that reads "BETH'S SHEEP RANCH" and "THE FOX".

It is still at Beth's
sheep ranch.

The soft wind brushes
Beth's cheek.

“I need you to put
plants by the pond,”
Mom says.

Beth jumps up and
grabs the plants.

The sun sets, and the ducks need to sleep.

They go to the nesting boxes.

The cover features a vibrant illustration of a farm scene. At the top, a young girl with dark hair in a bun, wearing a blue shirt and a red barn hat, is smiling and holding two white sheep. Below her is a wooden sign that reads "BETH'S SHEEP RANCH" in large, bold, serif letters. Underneath that, a smaller sign says "THE DEER". The background shows a lush green field with a herd of white sheep, a brown dog, and a brown deer. In the foreground, the girl is kneeling and hugging a brown dog. The scene is framed by a wooden border with decorative corner pieces. The background has a warm, orange and red sky, suggesting a sunset or sunrise.

Beth plays all day at the sheep ranch.

She splashes on the bank of the pond,

sways
with the trees in
the wind,

and sits
with all the pets.

The sun begins to set, and Beth feels a little cold.

The sheep will keep her warm.

They cannot see the sheep at the top.

Big rocks, tall plants,
and old logs are the only things on the hill.
